The Language Page Activity Guide: Grade 1

How to use these activities

Each page that follows is one activity for Grade 1: what it is, how students use it, what feedback they get, and how to teach it.

1. Open the link. No account is needed to practice. Your work saves in this browser on this device. Share the link; it opens at the right grade.
2. Listen first. Directions are spoken and answers are pictures. “Hear it again” replays any direction, and replay never removes a choice.
3. Feedback is not a score. Pages say “Not yet” or “Yes!” and invite another try. Nothing on these pages is an ACCESS score or a WIDA level.
4. Recording is optional. A microphone is never required. Recording starts only when a person presses Record, and recordings stay in the open tab.
5. Writing is on paper. Young writers print the page, write with a pencil and show a grown-up.

All activities and handouts

thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/start

The start page links to the tour, the exploration, the featured lesson, these guides and the Site Guide.

In this guide

- Find the Cat Listening · activity for grade 1 · 4 min page 2
- Name It: Garden Speaking · activity for grade 1 · 4 min page 3
- The Cat Naps Reading · activity for grade 1 · 4 min page 4
- I See Sentence Writing · activity for grade 1 · 10 min page 5

Find the Cat Listening

Where: The Sound Studio · Starting support · Time: 4 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Listening/A/g1-l-a-hear-cat?grades=1

What it is. Children listen and tap the cat from three animal pictures.

Why it works

Directions are spoken and every answer is a picture, so a child shows what they understood without needing to read. Replay is the only help, and it never removes a choice.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Listening under “Practice by skill.”

How students use it

1. Pepita, the guide, gives the direction: “Listen. Tap the cat.” Press “Hear it again” to hear it once more.
2. Press “Hear the story again” to replay the prompt.
3. Tap the picture that answers. “Hear: cat” beside a choice reads that choice aloud.
4. Press “Check,” then “Next.”

Feedback students get

“Not yet. Listen again, then try once more. All the choices are still here.” or “Yes! You did it.” No score.

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- Spoken directions and “Hear it again.”
- Picture choices, each with its own “Hear:” button.
- Audio-first mode is on: directions are spoken, answers are pictures.

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Point to each picture as you name it before the child chooses.
- Make the animal sounds together after the answer.

> Good to know. Practice only: the page says it is not a test score or level. Finished activities are remembered on this device.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Name the three animals together: cat, dog, fish.	Children tap on their own device or point on the board.	Ask: “Which animal says meow?”

If something goes wrong

No sound	Check the device volume. Read the direction and the choices aloud yourself; the pictures still work.
The child taps before listening	Press “Hear it again” together, then ask the child to point before tapping.

Name It: Garden Speaking

Where: The Expression Studio · Starting support · Time: 4 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Speaking/A/g1-s-a-garden-name?grades=1

What it is. Children look at a garden picture and name one thing they see.

Why it works

A child the learner's own age models the answer first, and the sentence starter waits behind a button, so speaking feels safe and short. Saying it to a partner counts as much as recording.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Speaking under "Practice by skill."

How students use it

1. Look at the garden picture. Press "Hear it again" to hear the question: "What do you see?"
2. Press "Hear Mateo, age 6 answer first" to hear a model.
3. Say your own answer aloud. The speaker button "Hear the sentence starter" says "I see ___."
4. Optional: press "Record my answer," then listen to yourself. Or say it to a partner.
5. Press "I said my answer," then "Next."

Feedback students get

No score. The model answer to compare with, and the page's tip: "Listen to your answer. Choose one detail to add, then record again if you want."

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- A model student: Mateo, age 6.
- The sentence starter, read aloud by "Hear the sentence starter."
- Optional recording: the microphone is asked for only when you press "Record my answer."

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Partners say "I see ___" to each other instead of recording.
- Ask for one more word: a color or a size.

> Good to know. Not scored. Recordings stay in the open tab and are never uploaded.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Point to two things in the garden and name them.	Turn and talk: say one thing you see, then listen to your partner.	Collect three answers on the board as "I see ___." sentences.

If something goes wrong

No microphone, or the child does not want to record	Skip "Record my answer." Say it to a partner, then press "I said my answer."
No sound	Check the device volume. Read the direction and the choices aloud yourself; the pictures still work.

🕮 The Cat Naps Reading

Where: The Reading Atelier · Growing · Time: 4 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Reading/B/g1-r-b-cat-mat?grades=1

What it is. Children read one sentence, “The cat naps on the mat.”, and tap where the cat is.

Why it works

Every sentence reads aloud on a tap, so decoding does not hide what a child understands, and the answer is a picture.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Reading under “Practice by skill.”

How students use it

1. Read the direction: “Read the sentence. Tap where the cat is.”
2. Tap the sentence “The cat naps on the mat.” to hear it read aloud.
3. Tap the picture that answers “Where is the cat?” “Hear: on the mat” beside a choice reads it aloud.
4. Press “Check,” then “Next.”

Feedback students get

“Not yet” with every choice still on the page, or “Yes! You did it.” No score.

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- Tap any sentence to hear it.
- Picture choices with their own “Hear:” buttons.
- “Hear it again” for the direction.

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Read the sentence together first, pointing to each word.
- Act out in, on and up with a small object.

> Good to know. Practice only: the page says it is not a test score or level. Finished activities are remembered on this device.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Read the sentence chorally, then underline “on.”	Children answer on their own.	Say a new sentence with “in” or “under” and act it out.

If something goes wrong

No sound	Check the device volume. Read the direction and the choices aloud yourself; the pictures still work.
The child guesses	Tap the sentence again together and find the word that answers.

I See Sentence Writing

Where: The Composition Studio · Growing · Time: 10 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Writing/B/g1-w-b-i-see?grades=1

What it is. Children look at a garden picture and write “I see” plus one thing on a printed page.

Why it works

Young writers write with a pencil on paper, where letters and drawings belong. The page prints exactly what to write, so the child can work without typing.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Writing under “Practice by skill.”

How students use it

1. Press “Hear it again” to hear the direction: “Print your page. Look at the garden. Write: I see, and one thing.”
2. Press the speaker button “Hear the sentence starter” to hear “I see ___.”
3. Press “Print my writing page.” The page shows the starter “I see ___.”.
4. Write and draw with a pencil, then show a grown-up.
5. Press “I wrote it on paper.”

Feedback students get

The page collects no typed writing. A grown-up reads the paper with the child; nothing is scored.

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- Spoken directions and “Hear it again.”
- “Print my writing page” prints the page to write on.
- “Hear the sentence starter” says the starter aloud.

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Say the sentence aloud together before writing.
- Children read their sentence to a partner.

> Good to know. No writing is typed or collected; the child shows the paper to a grown-up.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Say three “I see” sentences about the garden together.	Children write one sentence on the printed page.	Partners read their sentences to each other.

If something goes wrong

No printer	Copy the starter or the word on the board; children write on any paper.
The child is unsure what to write	Say it together first, then write one word at a time.