The Language Page Activity Guide: Grades 2–3

How to use these activities

Each page that follows is one activity for Grades 2–3: what it is, how students use it, what feedback they get, and how to teach it.

1. Open the link. No account is needed to practice. Your work saves in this browser on this device. Share the link; it opens at the right grade.
2. Listen first. Directions are spoken and answers are pictures. “Hear it again” replays any direction, and replay never removes a choice.
3. Feedback is not a score. Pages say “Not yet” or “Yes!” and invite another try. Nothing on these pages is an ACCESS score or a WIDA level.
4. Recording is optional. A microphone is never required. Recording starts only when a person presses Record, and recordings stay in the open tab.
5. Writing is on paper. Young writers print the page, write with a pencil and show a grown-up.

All activities and handouts

thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/start

The start page links to the tour, the exploration, the featured lesson, these guides and the Site Guide.

In this guide

- Who Waters the Garden? Listening · activity for grades 2–3 · 4 min — page 2
- What Do You See in the Garden? Speaking · activity for grades 2–3 · 4 min — page 3
- Leo’s Library Card Reading · activity for grades 2–3 · 4 min — page 4
- My Favorite Fruit Writing · activity for grades 2–3 · 10 min — page 5

Who Waters the Garden? Listening

Where: The Sound Studio · Starting support · Time: 4 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Listening/A/g23-l-a-garden-helper?grades=2-3

What it is. Students listen to a short story and tap the picture of who waters the bean plants.

Why it works

Directions are spoken and every answer is a picture, so a child shows what they understood without needing to read. Replay is the only help, and it never removes a choice.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Listening under “Practice by skill.”

How students use it

1. Pepita, the guide, gives the direction: “Listen to the story. Then tap the picture that answers the question.” Press “Hear it again” to hear it once more.
2. Press “Hear the story again” to replay the prompt.
3. Tap the picture that answers. “Hear: Ana” beside a choice reads that choice aloud.
4. Press “Check,” then “Next.”

Feedback students get

“Not yet. Listen again, then try once more. All the choices are still here.” or “Yes! You did it.” No score.

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- Spoken directions and “Hear it again.”
- Picture choices, each with its own “Hear:” button.
- Audio-first mode is on: directions are spoken, answers are pictures.

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Point to each picture as you name it before the child chooses.
- Ask students to tell a partner how they knew.

> Good to know. Practice only: the page says it is not a test score or level. Finished activities are remembered on this device.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Ask: “Who helps in a garden? What do they do?”	Students listen with headphones and answer.	Partners say who waters the plants and how they knew.

If something goes wrong

No sound	Check the device volume. Read the direction and the choices aloud yourself; the pictures still work.
The child taps before listening	Press “Hear it again” together, then ask the child to point before tapping.

What Do You See in the Garden? Speaking

Where: The Expression Studio · Starting support · Time: 4 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Speaking/A/g23-s-a-garden-see?grades=2-3

What it is. Students look at a garden picture and tell one thing they see.

Why it works

A child the learner's own age models the answer first, and the sentence starter waits behind a button, so speaking feels safe and short. Saying it to a partner counts as much as recording.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Speaking under "Practice by skill."

How students use it

1. Look at the garden picture. Press "Hear it again" to hear the question: "What do you see in the garden?"
2. Press "Hear Leo, age 8 answer first" to hear a model.
3. Say your own answer aloud. The speaker button "Hear the sentence starter" says "I see ___."
4. Optional: press "Record my answer," then listen to yourself. Or say it to a partner.
5. Press "I said my answer," then "Next."

Feedback students get

No score. The model answer to compare with, and the page's tip: "Listen to your answer. Choose one detail to add, then record again if you want."

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- A model student: Leo, age 8.
- The sentence starter, read aloud by "Hear the sentence starter."
- Optional recording: the microphone is asked for only when you press "Record my answer."

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Partners say "I see ___" to each other instead of recording.
- Ask for one more detail after the first answer.

> Good to know. Not scored. Recordings stay in the open tab and are never uploaded.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Model one sentence about the picture with one detail.	Partners take turns naming and describing.	Each pair shares the sentence with the best detail.

If something goes wrong

No microphone, or the child does not want to record	Skip "Record my answer." Say it to a partner, then press "I said my answer."
No sound	Check the device volume. Read the direction and the choices aloud yourself; the pictures still work.

🕮 Leo's Library Card Reading

Where: The Reading Atelier · Growing · Time: 4 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Reading/B/g23-r-b-library-card?grades=2-3

What it is. Students read four short sentences about Leo's library card and tap what he can do with it.

Why it works

Every sentence reads aloud on a tap, so decoding does not hide what a child understands, and the answer is a picture.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Reading under "Practice by skill."

How students use it

1. Read the direction: "Read the story. Then tap the answer."
2. Tap any of the four sentences to hear it read aloud.
3. Tap the picture that answers "What can Leo do with his card?" "Hear: borrow books" beside a choice reads it aloud.
4. Press "Check," then "Next."

Feedback students get

"Not yet" with every choice still on the page, or "Yes! You did it." No score.

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- Tap any sentence to hear it.
- Picture choices with their own "Hear:" buttons.
- "Hear it again" for the direction.

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Read the sentence together first, pointing to each word.
- Ask students to point to the sentence that proves the answer.

> Good to know. Practice only: the page says it is not a test score or level. Finished activities are remembered on this device.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Ask: "What can you do at a library?"	Students read, tap sentences to hear them, then answer.	Partners find the sentence that proves it: "Now he can borrow books."

If something goes wrong

No sound	Check the device volume. Read the direction and the choices aloud yourself; the pictures still work.
The child guesses	Tap the sentence again together and find the word that answers.

My Favorite Fruit Writing

Where: The Composition Studio · Starting support · Time: 10 min · Link: thelanguagepage.com/access-practice-lab/Writing/A/g23-w-a-favorite-fruit?grades=2-3

What it is. Students draw their favorite fruit and write one sentence: “I like ___ because ___.”

Why it works

Young writers write with a pencil on paper, where letters and drawings belong. The page prints exactly what to write, so the child can work without typing.

How to open it. Share the link; it opens at the right grade. Students can also start at the early learners home and choose Writing under “Practice by skill.”

How students use it

1. Press “Hear it again” to hear the direction: “Print your page. Draw your favorite fruit. Write one sentence about it.”
2. Press the speaker button “Hear the sentence starter” to hear “I like ___ because ___.”
3. Press “Print my writing page.” The page shows the frame “I like ___ because ___.”.
4. Write and draw with a pencil, then show a grown-up.
5. Press “I wrote it on paper.”

Feedback students get

The page collects no typed writing. A grown-up reads the paper with the child; nothing is scored.

Built-in help (part of the activity)

- Spoken directions and “Hear it again.”
- “Print my writing page” prints the page to write on.
- “Hear the sentence starter” says the starter aloud.

Teaching moves (what you add)

- Say the sentence aloud together before writing.
- Partners trade papers and underline “because.”

> Good to know. No writing is typed or collected; the child shows the paper to a grown-up.

Teach it

Before	During	After
Say your own sentence: “I like apples because they are crunchy.”	Students draw, then write the sentence.	Partners read and underline the word “because.”

If something goes wrong

No printer	Copy the starter or the word on the board; children write on any paper.
The child is unsure what to write	Say it together first, then write one word at a time.